

SITTING ROOM PROJECT

The sitting room is conceived for the whole family gathering and welcoming guests.

The aim of the project has been to integrate the owner's stone collection in a welcoming, comfortable and joyful space with different areas: the display area for stone collection, the seating area by the fireplace and TV, and the reading area, to enable different activities in the same space at same time.

The chromatic palette of the room mixes deep teal colour with bright, white, black, concrete grey and warmer Atmosia wood essence as floor finish. Beige linen upholstered Swedese Continental Sofa is matched with Oculus Chair, the iconic piece designed by Hans Wegner for Carl Hansen and Son. Ross Gardam Oak pendants are hung centred above the Dolmo Petalo coffee tables which feature two shade of brown leather upholstered top. Surya Rugs Sanderson handtufted wool rug with its floral pattern, highlights the seating area and matches teal and warmer tones of the room.
